

Vietnamese Architecture

Use these web sites to aid your search:

- Chua Mot Cot (One Pillar Pagoda)
(<http://www.orientalarchitecture.com/hanoi/onepillarindex.htm>)
- My Son Ruins
(<http://www.orientalarchitecture.com/myson/mysonindex.htm>)

Questions:

Chua Mot Cot (One Pillar Pagoda)

1. When was the One Pillar Pagoda first constructed? _____

2. Legend has it that King Ly dreamed of the goddess _____ sitting on a lotus leaf and offering him a _____.

3. Because of the dream, who does the king marry? _____

4. The king and queen have a baby _____.

5. In gratitude, what does the king built to honor the goddess? _____

6. Some say that the pagoda resembles a _____ climbing out of the water.

7. The pagoda was destroyed a number of times over the _____.

8. The last time was in _____ when the French retreated (left Vietnam after ruling the country).

The Ruins of My Son

1. What was the center of Champa Culture and when did it flourish? _____

2. What three things did the Champa kingdom borrow from Indian culture?

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

3. When did the Champa kingdom end? _____

4. What happened to the Champa kingdom? _____

5. North Vietnam was influenced by Chinese architecture and art. What kept My Son from being influenced by the Chinese? _____

6. My Son traded with what two places?

1. _____

2. _____

7. What did the builders at My Son “glue” the bricks together? _____

8. What damaged My Son? _____
